

Business Administration

This division of Business provides students with professional knowledge and basic skills necessary to assume positions of administrative responsibility in a wide variety of areas. A major in this field can be utilized in almost any industry or organization.

Many people enter business positions with a bachelor's degree. However, a Master's degree in Business Administration (MBA) is essential in some areas for advancement.

The tables below are not inclusive but provide a basic listing of career opportunities available to a Business Administration major.

Positions for those holding a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration include:

Sales Management	Retail Management	Health Administration
Business Consultant	Accounting Management	Human Resources
Industrial Management	Labor Relations	Leadership
Business Communications	Public Administration	Project Management
Entrepreneurship	Commerce Management	Safety Representative
Packaging Engineer	Reliability Engineer	Industrial Consultant
Management Consultant	Senior Management	Senior Administration
Publisher	Public Official	Labor Relations Specialist
Materials Management Supervisor	Construction Project Engineer	Methods and Procedure Analyst

Positions that may require a Master's or Doctorate include:

Executive	CEO	Transportation Engineer
Professor	Higher Education

More information can be found by utilizing the following Internet resources:

Occupational Outlook Handbook www.bls.gov/oco

O*Net OnLine <http://online.onetcenter.org/>

Careers in Business www.careers-in-business.com

Career Journal www.careerjournal.com

Worldwide Learn www.worldwidelearn.com/online-education-guide/business/management-major.htm

Society for Human Resource Management www.shrm.org

ZeroMillion.com www.zeromillion.com/

Kauffman Foundation www.kauffman.org/entrepreneurship.cfm

Counseling & Career Services
Hodes Center 118
816-501-2901