

English

English is a subject and a course of study. As a course of study, it does not convert directly to an occupation, as many other majors do, such as accounting for accountants and nursing for nurses. English is a language and like other languages, is a foundational ability. English also involves the study of literature. The English major can choose a concentration in Literature or Writing.

The tables below are not inclusive but provide a basic listing of career opportunities available to the English major.

Positions for those holding a Bachelor's degree in English include:

Editorial Assistant	Copywriter	Publications Editor
Print Journalist	Advertising Copywriter	Technical Copywriter
Screen writer	Free-lance Writer	Teacher
Communications Consultant	Federal Government Info Officer	Marketing & Public Relations
Personnel Analyst	Executive Assistant	News Writer

Positions that may require a Master's or Doctorate include:

Professor	Lawyer	Psychologist
Librarian

More information can be found by utilizing the following Internet resources:

Occupational Outlook Handbook www.bls.gov/oco

O*Net OnLine <http://online.onetcenter.org/>

American Society of Journalists and Authors www.asja.org

Society of Technical Communications www.stc.org

National Communications Association www.natcom.org

Freelance Writing www.freelancewriting.com

Association of Magazine Media <http://magazine.org/>

The Write Jobs <http://www.writejobs.com/>

AVILA UNIVERSITY

Counseling & Career Services
Hodes Center 118
816-501-2901