

Religious Studies & Philosophy

Religious Studies are central to the understanding of history, art, music, politics, and many other fields. The Religious Studies degree is designed for and open to people from all religious backgrounds. Religious Studies majors receive a broad-based, liberal arts program that prepares them for the work world or graduate education. Concentrations include Philosophy and Religious Studies.

The tables below are not inclusive but provide a basic listing of career opportunities available to a Religious Studies major.

Positions for those holding a Bachelor's degree in Religious Studies & Philosophy include:

| | | |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Policy Analyst | Government Researcher | Journalist |
| Negotiator | Project Manager | Care Worker |
| International Aid Advisor | Volunteer Coordinator | Political Party Worker |
| Fundraiser | Mediator | Human Resource Advisor |
| Union Organizer | Professional Development Consultant | Teacher |
| Writer | Minister | Campus Ministry |

Positions that may require a Master's or Doctorate include:

| | | |
|-----------|-----------|--|
| Professor | Counselor | |
|-----------|-----------|--|

More information can be found by utilizing the following Internet resources:

Occupational Outlook Handbook www.bls.gov/oco
O*Net OnLine <http://online.onetcenter.org/>
American Academy of Religion www.aarweb.org
Association for the Sociology of Religion www.sociologyofreligion.com
Evangelical Press Association www.epassoc.org
Religious Education Association www.religiouseducation.net
Action Without Borders www.idealists.org
Christian Career Center www.christiancareercenter.com
Ministry Watch www.ministrywatch.com
Nonprofit Career Network www.nonprofitcareer.com
Council on Philanthropy www.kcphilnet.org
Muslim Student Association www.msa-natl.org
Buddhist Association of the United States www.baus.org

AVILA UNIVERSITY
Counseling & Career Services
Hodes Center 118
816-501-2901